

Soldiers' Angels needs your help for the 2011 Holiday Season!

This holiday, an estimated 130,000 U.S. military personnel will be serving in Iraq and Afghanistan, in combat zones or in support of combat operations. Some will be on their 4th or 5th deployments--spending yet another Holiday away from the loving arms of family and friends. We want them to know that they are remembered, that we are thinking of them during the winter Holiday Season, and that we are grateful for their service. Since we can't all wrap our arms around them in person to show how much we love and appreciate them, Soldiers' Angels needs your help to make sure each one of America's heroes is Wrapped in Holiday Spirit.

Please help us make sure that our deployed Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Marines this Holiday Season know: "We haven't forgotten you, we support you, and we believe in you!"

Handmade "Blankets of Belief" form the heart of the Soldiers' Angels Wrapped in Holiday Spirit care packages for the 2011 Holiday Season. These special Blankets are designed to tell America's service men and women, "We believe in you." When deployed service members receive a Blanket of Belief, they know that somebody back home remembers them, that somebody labored over a handmade blanket with love and belief in them. Along with the handmade Blanket, each Wrapped in Holiday Spirit care package includes a collection of yummy snacks, a stainless steel travel mug, socks, and a holiday card with a personal note of thanks and support.
